PERSONAL STATEMENT

Not everyone fits into a neat little box, and I always knew that I was too big for mine. That didn't stop other people from trying to keep me in my place – but the more they tried, the bigger my ideas grew. That was when I broke out and started my digital recruitment agency. I made it my goal to match forward-thinking companies with other talented digitals trying to break out of their boxes, and I never looked back.

In the fast-paced world of digital, it's important to find a candidate who can not only keep up, but one who can lead the pack. I'm constantly searching for inspired individuals who will take a business's digital development to the next level, and I've honed my listening skills to make sure that I know exactly what a company needs from a new hire. As one of my clients, you can be sure that I'll go above and beyond to unbox the very best candidates for the role, developing a full understanding of your company and the digital landscape.
